not sure if horse was found , But just in case :

Stolen Horse, Southern IL a Registered Paint Horse that was stolen from a farm in Flat Rock Illinois sometime during the night on Friday August 22. The farm is Located about 10 miles north of Lawrenceville, IL. It belonged to the Keith Caughran family, specifically their 13 year old daughter that has owned him for 5 years. This horse was her best friend and the family is devastated. The horse is the 2008 Crawford County all around 4-H Champion and was scheduled to go to the National Barrel Horse Assn. World Championship show this fall. The horse was in a pasture with a Standardbred, Whitssundaybeach. The halter was removed from "Whitts" and used to lead the horse "Max" out of the pasture through an area which was cut in the fence. This was not a random crime nor was there any ownership/money dispute over the horse. Limited information is available other than the neighbors though they saw a truck with a light colored bumper pull stock type trailer in the area.

Please publish this wherever possible and send to anyone on mailing list that may be of assistance in locating this horse. Contact the Crawford County Sheriff's Department or the family at 618-584-3178 or 812-887-5179.

WILL TRADE LEASE FOR TRAINING

have a beautiful, partly trained, 6 year old quarter horse paint gelding for lease. The lease fee is you train him for riding. I'm willing to house and feed him (at my place), you train, ride, show and enjoy him for 12-18 months. He would make a GREAT 4-H PROJECT HORSE! He is highly intelligent and very friendly - no chasing, he comes right to you. He's halter broke and knows how to lunge. Trainer Wendy Koerkemeier can vouch for his potential. I need him trained but I don't have the time or money right now. We're located just down the road from the Lincoln Trail Riders arena. Call 618-593-1995 & leave a message (it may take me a day or two to respond, I work retail.) I will also consider selling him or trading him for a reasonably calm, older horse whose already trained.

ST. LOUIS -- An unusually high number of horses in the St. Louis area have come down with a potentially fatal disease, a University of Missouri veterinarian said Monday.

Veterinarian Philip Johnson said he has treated six cases of Potomac Horse Fever this summer and was aware of about a dozen additional cases being treated in the St. Louis region, both in Missouri and Illinois.

"Potomac Horse Fever crops up as mini-epidemics when conditions are right," Johnson said in a statement. He explained wet weather earlier this summer and flood conditions in parts of the region likely contributed to the spread of the disease's infectious agent.

The disease is not common in the Midwest, but veterinarians are able to test for and treat the disease. It is caused by an infectious agent found in snails, swallows, bats and flies that live near rivers. Horses are often exposed to it by flies that pick up the infection near a river. When the flies die, their bodies may fall in pastures or water troughs where horses unknowingly consume them, he said.

Horses then get a bacterial infection of the large intestine that can result in fever, colic, diarrhea and other symptoms. An infected pregnant mare may lose her offspring before birth.

Veterinarian Stuart Robson said the Fox Creek Veterinary Hospital in Wildwood has seen five cases of Potomac Horse Fever this year, and he said normally he'd see about one case every few years.

Last year with the help of all of you, we were able to raise $15,000 to go towards a nursing scholarship for St. Louis Children's Hospital.

This year we are doing it again in the hope of raising even more money to send more nurses to continuing education classes. These men and women are saving the lives of amazing children each and every day. We want to tell them thank you by helping to back up their education.

Also, this year's proceeds will benefit two more organizations. Camp Rhythm, a summer camp dedicated to the special needs of children with heart problems, and Families in Need, organized for parents of children with congenital heart defects.

If you are unable to attend this event but would like to make a donation, please make checks payable to "Averi Budde Fund" and mail to: Blue Springs Ranch, PO Box 540, Bourbon, MO 65441. For more information regarding this event, please call (800) 333-8007.
